

Terry Hobbs is the Managing Director & Senior Advisor for the HR Consulting practice at Integrated Healthcare Strategies, a division of Gallagher Benefit Services, Inc. He has over twenty years of insightful experience in the field of human resource management and organizational effectiveness, and provides consulting services to numerous award-winning healthcare organizations throughout the United States. Working closely with senior and managerial level leadership, as well as Board members and physicians, Mr. Hobbs has been successful in developing solutions which help align human resources systems to better meet the organization's financial, quality, and people goals.

Mr. Hobbs is a dynamic speaker and has presented at numerous national and state healthcare and human resource organizations, as well as onsite seminars and leadership training for thousands of healthcare managers and supervisors nationwide. His speaking skills have been recognized and awarded in a number of areas, including receiving the Highest Award for Achievement from the Dale Carnegie Human Relations and Public Speaking program.

Prior to joining Gallagher Integrated, Mr. Hobbs held senior level positions in both healthcare and Fortune 500 manufacturing firms, and has achieved the Senior Professional in Human Resources Certification (SPHR) from the Society for Human Resource Management.

Mr. Hobbs has a Bachelor of Science degree in Sociology from Indiana Wesleyan University and a Master of Science degree in Management from Southern Nazarene University of Oklahoma.

PROFESSIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Professional Certified Coach (PCC) International Coach Federation (ICF) Training Program
- Master Certified Coach Trainer through the Center for Executive Coaching
- Certified User for Profiles XT, Managerial Fit.

Terry Hobbs

Managing Director & Senior
Advisor