Gallagher GovernWell™

The healthcare industry is in a period of transformation.

New changes are constantly impacting health systems, from the volume to value shift to Population Health Management, to accountable care and more. For critical access hospitals and others, this means more pressure on the C-suite to make increasingly complicated decisions that will transform their governance practices.

Consequently, hospitals will need to begin to rethink their governance model—no small task for most boards. It will involve streamlining and reworking how boards make decisions, engage physicians, and work with committees and various community organizations. And it will require that boards have the materials they need to do exactly that.

Introducing Gallagher GovernWell™

To help ease the new demands of governance boards, Gallagher Integrated has recently released Gallagher GovernWell™, a game-changing new resource with more than 3,000 pages of customizable governance materials:

- It's a comprehensive resource with more than 3,000 pages of governance materials—so board chairs and CEOs have extensive materials they can use immediately.
- Its files are established as Word, PowerPoint, etc. files—so they can be easily customized with the hospital's own logos and materials, saving time and money.
- Its materials are easily accessible and organized—so they can be used for a board's journey towards continuous governance development and enhancement.
